WHY YOU SHOULD SPONSOR CENTREVILLE DAY :

Children's Rides Sponsor Chantilly Wegmans

Sponsors receive premium placement in Centreville Day's Marketplace and a priceless opportunity to show their leadership and support of community in the Centreville-Chantilly area.

Your sponsorship keeps children's rides, admission, parking, and shuttles FREE to our visitors & your customers.

Sponsors are located in Centreville Day's Marketplace or Safety Expo which features a diverse mix of business exhibitors, non-profit organizations, crafters and retailers.

All Centreville Day sponsors are welcome to participate in the "Trick or Treat Trail" and give away treats or provide activities for children.

Sponsors may also reserve a place in the American Legion Centreville Day Parade or participate in the Rotary Club Pet Pageant.

Spaces at Centreville Day are exactly that: a 10 by 10 space without furnishings or electricity. This allows each sponsor to customize their space to suit their needs and branding. However, we are happy to provide a canopy, table and two chairs to our sponsors upon request.

Our best measure of success is the number of returning sponsors and business exhibitors each year who tell us that Centreville Day is a productive event they want to support again.

Sponsorships begin at the modest $300 for the Business or Marketing Level. See below for details about sponsorships and a list of sponsors.

The goals of Centreville Day are:

1. To have a safe & healthy event. We are hopeful that the worst of the pandemic is behind us, but we will conform to the recommendations of the Fairfax County Health Department, including cancelling Centreville Day if necessary.
2. To have a great community celebration that incorporates Centreville's businesses, its cultural diversity, and its rich history.
3. To increase public awareness and appreciation for Centreville's cultural heritage and historic resources.
4. To raise funds for the Friends of Historic Centreville (FHC), a non-profit 501(c)(3) charity, and its mission to support Historic Centreville Park and preserve Centreville area historic resources.

SPONSORS & THE CENTREVILLE DAY

PLANNING COMMITTEE: Sponsors are welcome to join us and help shape the event.

Centreville Day is planned by a committee made up of community volunteers, many of whom are community leaders representing key civic organizations and businesses. Our regular planning partners include the Fairfax County Park Authority, the office of Sully District Supervisor Kathy Smith, the Fairfax County Police Department, American Legion Post 1995, the Centreville-Chantilly Rotary Club, the Dulles Regional Chamber, the Historic Centreville Society, the Bull Run Civil War Roundtable, and local churches including the Korean Central Presbyterian Church, Centreville Baptist Church, the Church of the Ascension, and St. John's Episcopal Church.

THE FRIENDS OF HISTORIC CENTREVILLE: The Friends of Historic Centreville (FHC) is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit dedicated to the preservation of Centreville's unique heritage, especially the resources in Historic Centreville Park and the Centreville Historic District. We are overseen by a volunteer Board of Directors. With the help of our sponsors, Friends of Historic Centreville has been growing a fund to educate school children, preserve historic sites, support research, develop facilities at Historic Centreville Park, and share Centreville's rich history with the public. FHC began in 2005 and has actively worked to expand the Centreville Historic District, supported the acquisition of parkland in the Centreville Historic District and the creation of Historic Centreville Park. THE CENTREVILLE COMMUNITY : Settled in the mid-18th century and originally known as Newgate, Centreville was chartered in 1792. The town was famously fortified and occupied by Confederate and Union forces during the Civil War. Historic Centreville Park includes a significant portion of the original town and is situated within the Centreville Historic District. The park features Mount Gilead, built as Federal era tavern (circa 1785), fortifications and earthworks built in the Civil War, and a Sears Catalogue House (1934). Ten additional buildings, dating from 1796 to the 1950s, are included in the Historic District, which is the largest of its kind in Fairfax County.

Today, Centreville maintains a small-town community spirit despite its population of more than 70,000. Centreville’s population is ethnically diverse (29% Asian, 14% Hispanic, 7% African-American), affluent (median income over $118,000, family household income is over $144,000), highly educated (57% have college degree or higher) and family-oriented (62% of households are married).

Centreville Day Sponsorship Application

The Friends of Historic Centreville thanks you sincerely for your generous donation. FHC is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Once you complete the SPONSOR APPLICATION and submit payment you and your company will be a donor to FHC and a sponsor of Centreville Day. A receipt will indicate what portion of your sponsorship is a tax-deductible contribution. Upon request, FHC will send an invoice to you at the address specified. W9 forms are also available upon request.

Please note that to acknowledge your donation on any signage, program, advertising, and on our website, we need timely payment. Centreville Day cannot occur without your support!

Please e-mail us your logo when you submit your sponsorship application. High resolution j-peg or similar graphic picture format is the most convenient.

Please read the terms of agreement on the last page. Typically, Centreville Day does not provide canopies, tables, chairs, so that sponsors may use materials with their logos. We do have a limited supply of furnishings, please contact us if you need assistance. Sponsors may arrange to bring quiet generators at their spaces, but please let us know in advance.

Note that Centreville Day may be cancelled or may end early in case of inclement weather. There is no rain date and no refunds for inclement weather. We incur event expenses regardless of rain or other inclement weather and cannot offer refunds for weather cancellation. A rain date is impractical because of the numbers of homes, churches and businesses affected by road closures. We do try to go forward with Centreville Day in light rain, but we must consider the condition of the park grounds and the comfort of our vendors and visitors.

Your contributions support Historic Centreville Park, local historic preservation and public education, and benefits all the citizens of the greater Centreville area.

Mail application and payment to:

Friends of Historic Centreville, PO Box 1573, Centreville, VA 20122

Checks are the preferred form of payment for sponsorships. However, if you email the application to CentrevilleFHC@gmail.com, we can send you a link to pay by credit card.
